The Westinghouse Airbrake Co. has suspended operations entirely at its works at Wilmerding, near Pittsburgh, enforcing idleness on between 900 and 1,000 men. The shut-down will continue about three weeks for repairs.

Wm. Hoffman, an old soldier, died at his home suddenly of heart disease, aged about 50 years. He was the only eye-witness of the murder of Jacob Palm by Wm. Strong, in Circleville, last July. The trial is set for this term of court.

Senator Voorhees would rather adjourn the senate than submit to compromise. He says that sooner than accept such terms of compromise as Senator Blackburn suggests, the repealer will vote to adjourn until the regular session.

Ed King and J. P. Dickson, the Pittsburgh printers who beat to death "Billy" Cunningham, of Cincinnati, were found guilty of manslaughter, but were recommended to the mercy of the court. The extreme penalty is twelve years and $500.

Sallie, aged 5 years, daughter of E. O. Rogers, of Faulkner's station, Ky., was burned to death Wednesday night. Her clothing took fire from a lighted match with which she was playing, and she was horribly burned before her father could reach her.

Every demonstration made by the galleries of the senate since the debate on the silver bill began has occurred while a free-silver advocate was speaking. No manifestations of applause have been made when those opposed to silver were on the floor.

The wife of Charles Cadmus, of Kinsman, O., was found lying in a field near her home unconscious and nearly dead from exposure. She had been sick for some time with typhoid fever, and it is supposed, wandered from the house at night while delirious.

The post office at Barbours, Summit county, and St. Paris, Champaign county, O., have been made presidential camps, each paying $1,000 per year. John McManara will be reappointed at the former and Wm. M. Huffman at the latter office, both being democrats.

The state federation of labor convention at St. Louis Thursday passed a resolution commending Gov. Altgeld, of Illinois, for pardoning the Haymarket anarchists, and Judge Reed, of Wichita, was denounced for declaring the explosion of a gasoline stove occurred in Manlove's restaurant, Bainbridge, O., and several persons barely escaped serious injuries. The alarm of the fire, which was spread, so excited Mrs. Ada Manara, an aged resident of the village, that she suddenly died from heart disease.

The London Times says that Tom Mann, the associate of John Burns and Kier Hardie in leading the labor movement in Great Britain, is about to take holy orders. Some time during the holidays he will be appointed to an industrial district.

Frederick Spiegel, aged 30 years, of Sandusky, O., quarreled Friday with his wife and she swore out a peace warrant for his arrest. Anticipating legal proceedings and preferring death to arrest under such circumstances, he hanged himself with a piece of clothes line in one of the rooms of his residence.

Secretary Sinclair, of the East St. Louis Jockey club, was held up and robbed of $200 at 6 o'clock Friday evening at the story of the Globe-Democrat building, St. Louis, where he has an office. The thief ran with the plunder, but was captured on Broadway. He is a race-track hanger-on, with many aliases.

At Pascagoula, near Mobile, Ala., ten vessels are ashore. The damage at Scranton and Pascagoula is estimated at $250,000. Portersville, a summer resort, was washed away, and the oyster plant of the Booth Packing Co., of Chicago, was totally destroyed. Nearly every house in the vicinity was demolished. Every vessel in the bay there went ashore and was wrecked.

The house Thursday passed a bill providing for the sale of the old customhouse building in Louisville, Ky. It provides for the appointment by the secretary of the treasury of an appraiser to appraise the property, and a sale can not be made for a less figure than fixed by the appraiser. Louisville has a new public building, and the present one has no use for the

THE NEW TARIFF.

The Bill Will Be Introduced in Congress in November and Will Probably Become a Law in March.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Chairman Wilson, of the ways and means committee, in response to a question as to the progress being made on the new tariff bill, said Monday afternoon: "We are making very fair progress, although we have not got so far as to consider phrasology. It may not be possible for us to complete the bill by November 1, but I hope that if it is not finished then it will be within a very few days thereafter." Other members of the committee who were seen Monday were even more confident of the early completion of the measure, in which so much interest is felt. They agreed in the belief that it would be ready to submit to the consideration of the full committee somewhere between the 1st and 10th of next month, and that it would be reported to the house and placed on the calendar by the 20th prox.

If this programme is carried out, it will be possible for the house to conclude consideration of the bill and send it over for the consideration of the senate before the Christmas holidays. The probabilities, therefore, are that the measure will become a law during the latter part of February or early in March, 1894.

"Nothing can be said as to the revenue lines upon which the bill is to be drawn," said a member of the committee Monday. "As the matter now stands, without touching any of the items of the present law, we are confronted by a deficit of at least fifty million dollars. The probabilities are that the changes we will make in the schedules will still further increase that sum. Add to that the new articles to be placed on the free list and which thus lose their revenue producing power, and when we have found out the total we shall know whether it will be necessary to place a tax on sugar or incomes, or an increased tax on beer and spirits. You will see, therefore, that it is absolutely impossible for the committee to determine what shall be done with either of these proposed subjects of taxation until after the schedules in the main bill have been absolutely determined upon and the revenue to be derived from them calculated as closely as possible. I think it is highly probable that the bill will be placed on the free list and the sugar bounty repealed, which two things will about balance each other."

AGAIN BEATEN.

The American Vigilant Outrigger the British Valkyrie and Comes to Three Miles Ahead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A triangular course of 30 miles, 10 miles to each leg, was marked out for the Vigilant and Valkyrie race Monday.

At 12:30 p. m. the Vigilant was on the Valkyrie in the lead. The Vigilant has her jib topsail, club topsail, main sail, fore staysail and jib spread. The Valkyrie has club topsail, main sail, fore staysail and jib. The Vigilant is one length ahead.

At 1:17 a. m. the Valkyrie opened the gap, apparently two lengths in the lead. The wind increased to about 20 miles, but is patchy. The gap seems to have increased to about four lengths, but the Vigilant is now forcing her way along with better effect and lessening the gap.

At 1:35 p. m. the yachts were abreast of each other. The Vigilant to the windward. The Valkyrie was a little in the lead.

At 1:50 p. m.—The yachts are now on port tack. The wind has hauled more to starboard; velocity twenty-four miles an hour and increasing. Vigilant has passed Valkyrie and is apparently six lengths in the lead; she has her jib topsail out.

At 2:05 p. m.—Vigilant increasing her lead; wind S. W.; moderate breeze. The Vigilant turned the first stake at 1:57 and the Valkyrie at 1:51.

At 2:15 p. m.—The Vigilant went out of the glass at 1:40. The Valkyrie followed at 1:47:30. This shows that the Vigilant has a lead of seven minutes and 55 seconds.

At 2:35 the Vigilant is now standing southeast to turn the second stakeboat. Her sheets are hauled in.

At 2:57 the Vigilant jibbed around the second mark leading by six and one-half minutes.

SANDY HOOK, Oct. 10.—3 p. m.—The Vigilant passed the line at 2:50, leaving the Valkyrie three miles astern.

Kershaw, the Gray Sued.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Developments in the suicide of Henry D. Kershaw, of New Orleans, leave no doubt but that insanity was the cause. His attorney, Mr. Gilmore, said Monday: "Kershaw was born and raised in New Orleans, and is connected with some of the wealthiest and most prominent families there. His mother is a cousin of Napoleon III. His widow is a niece of the confederate general, Robert E. Lee. Kershaw could not tell whisky alone, and it ruined him. That's the whole story."

American Coal for England.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The colliery strikes in England have led to much speculation as to their far-reaching results. Some persons say there may be a failure in the amount of coal required to run the factories and even light the houses of London. Then we may really "send coals to Newcastle."

Big Iron Works Resume.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 10.—The Apollo Iron and Steel Co., at Apollo, Pa., started up in nearly all departments Monday with nonunion workmen. The company is one of the largest steel and steel manufacturing companies in this country.

Total Clerk Killed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Alexander S. Smith, hotel clerk at the Occidental hotel, was shot and killed Monday evening by George H. Goddard. The tragedy was the outcome of a quarrel over an unpaid board bill. The murderer has escaped.

Paper Machine Threatened.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—One of the largest paper mills in the kingdom has closed owing to a lack of coal, and many other mills are upon the point of similar action. This would lead to a paper famine in the newspaper world, where the stocks of paper are being quickly exhausted.

De Leossa Dykes.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Fernando De Leossa is said to be dying at his country house at Laccheyne. M. Blondin, of Panama canal scandal fame, was released from prison on account of his health.

The Isles in the Tidal-Flooded Southern Districts.

Death and Silence Govern Without Let or Hindrance—Driven to Desperation by Hunger the Survivors Threaten to Attack the Depots of Supplies.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9.—The news from every section stricken by the storm would indicate the loss of life to be fully 4,000, while millions of dollars' worth of property was destroyed. Besides that, several thousands of people have been deprived of the means of making a livelihood. The situation is appalling, but New Orleans is doing all it can to relieve the thousands in want.

Dr. Terry, coroner of Plaquemine parish, has made the following reports: "A good many ear-beds of provisions and clothing have been sent out, but not near enough. Men, women and children are without food and clothing. They have become so desperate that they have threatened to attack residences that withstood the effects of the storm and steal food. It is a frequent thing to see little sufferers crying and begging piteously for something to eat. Single graves for the dead were impossible. Great trenches were dug and bodies piled in one on top of the other. The earth was thrown over them, and their names were ascertained they were cut on rude crosses above the graves."

"I do not think I exaggerate the facts when I state that at least 3,500 souls were reduced into eternity by the recent storm in Louisiana. This, of course, includes the Bayou, Cook county, Chienere, Camandia, Grand Isle, etc. I never saw bodies decompose so rapidly as those of the storm sufferers which were viewed by me. This was due to the fact that the fish and crabs in the bayous eat the remains."

The relief party which set out from Biloxi tells an awful story of the destitution and loss of life in the Louisiana marshes. The marshes are filled with dead and putrefying bodies in very few cases the corpses being recognizable. The number of lives lost on these marshes will never be known. The territory covered was a distance of two hundred miles. Newly-made graves were everywhere. The only sign of life seen in the marsh was one racoon, and it was floating on a log. Hundreds of oyster boats and luggers were lost with most of their crews, and the few survivors tell terrible stories of suffering.

Capt. Lefort, the leading spirit among the survivors of the Cheniere Camandias, places the number of the saved at 300. The population of the plantations and the bayous immediately connected with it was slightly more than 1,500. He says the island will be abandoned as a habitation of man. Grand Isle and Cheniere will also be abandoned.

The mayor Sunday received a telegram from R. R. Arnold, of Chicago, general freight agent of the Monon route, tendering free of charge the services of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railway for the transportation of donations of clothing and provisions for the relief of sufferers from the storm.

This city has raised a relief fund of about $15,000 in aid of steamers, luggers, skiffs and trains have been sent in every direction to extend relief. The only new development is the intelligence from Bayou Sandress, leading from the Grand Isle district, that there are a hundred deaths each section. This indicates about 1,000 deaths between Cheniere and Bayou Cook.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad is still busy repairing bridges, and will not be in good order for two weeks. A great many people are leaving their former homes in the stricken section and coming to New Orleans, but the former Slavonians on Bayou Cook and the Malays at Shell Beach and St. Mal say what they want is to recover and repair their boats and rebuild their houses and they will be able to earn a living and pay back the money loaned.

SLEDGE-HAMMERS.

Demolished Every Grave-Stone in the Catholic Cemetery.

RENSSELAER, Ind., Oct. 9.—Near Schererville, about twelve miles north of here, vandals entered the beautiful Catholic cemetery during the absence of Father Berg, who resides in the city near by, and with a sledge-hammer proceeded to demolish every monument and grave-stone in the cemetery. The damage here alone will amount to several thousand dollars, as a number of handsome monuments adorned this beautiful city of the dead.

Not contented with the dastardly work they had already done, they then proceeded to the church and collected all the books from the library, including the mass book, took them on the outside of the building and set fire to them, completely destroying them. Together with two or three handsome banners, the property of the church. They then began their search for anything of value that they might carry off. Handsome gold and silver articles which usually adorn the interior of Catholic churches were collected together and carried off by these libels of the human race. The excitement in that locality is great, and should the guilty parties be found their lives would pay the forfeit for the unpardonable crime which they so wantonly committed.

Will Be Annexed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 9.—William A. Wendon, a London capitalist, in an interview Sunday says that the territory of Lower California has been purchased from the Mexican government by an English-American syndicate, and the peninsula will be annexed to the United States.

Kansas City Bank to Resume.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 9.—The National Bank of Kansas City, which failed during the past summer, will open its doors for business Monday. Its capital is $1,000,000, intact. President Chisholm will retain his position.

Will Planed by North Officials.

BREITLY, Oct. 9.—As the town council has refused to improve the Castle square here, so as to provide a playground for the emperor's sons, he has decided to limit his residence in Berlin to the period required by official necessity. He and his family will pass the rest of their time at the new palace at Potsdam.

Nashville Bank Closes.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9.—The Safe Deposit, Trust and Banking Co. of this city, made an assignment late Saturday night for the benefit of creditors.

CHICAGO DAY.

All Assemblages of Modern Times Expelled—Three-Quarters of a Million People Gather at the Great World's Fair.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—When Chicago planned Monday's exercises and festivities the characteristic push and enterprize at once asserted itself, and a special committee appointed by the city council, assisted by World's fair officials, began the preliminary arrangements to make Chicago day the biggest of the exposition. After several weeks of work the programme was arranged satisfactorily. The day was a grand success. It was the banner event of the fair. The avenues were not filled with equipages of state, but the common people were here by the tens of thousands, the school children, laborers, mechanics, in fact, citizens from every calling came in squads.

Speech-making was no feature. Long ago popular crowds have shown a distaste for oratorical contests. Monday was all action. Events of popular interest were so numerous as to turn the head of the average visitor. One grand feature followed another. Before the sun had peeped above the blue of Lake Michigan people hurried to the different depots to take trains to the White City. Down-town business houses were packed up Saturday night and the kept on until Tuesday. Merchants actuated by patriotic impulses purchased tickets for their employees; everybody was in holiday attire, and Chicago was at her best. Every mode of transportation was taxed to its capacity. People came on trains three deep. Visitors were armed with souvenir tickets, and Chief Tucker, of the department of admissions, had every available man at work.

It was ten o'clock when the Chicago Hussars, under command of Capt. Brand, entered the grounds at the west end of Midway. As the company made a tour of the grounds, Battery D, under the direction of Lieut. Russell, was firing a salute over the lake front. Flanking the main line and stationed on the periphery, administration, manufacturers and agricultural buildings, trumpeters in heralds' uniform played a short fanfare of peace, and then in unison, splitting the air to the ends of the grounds, "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" was played. The combined bands, numbering several hundred musicians, played the air of "All Nations." It was a grand spectacle.

The height of enthusiasm was reached, however, when a chorus of 3,000 voices, under the direction of Prof. Tomlinson, sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The refrain was taken up by 10,000 people, and as the singers executed the notes of the American hymn, the United States swelled the volume to an extent rarely heard. Then the chorus sang a soft southern air, including "Dixie Land," "Maryland," and "Kentucky Home."

"Columbia, Gem of the Ocean," was then sung, and the united bands marched from the grand plaza to the west entrance of the administration building. Here the band played a march in honor of the day. Eight hundred voices, directed by Prof. Tomlinson, sang "Die Wacht am Rhein," "Marseilles," and other national airs on a platform west of the administration building. Here the band executed a march in honor of the day. The fact that a whale, unprepared for scientific exploration and equipped with a small fraction of the cost which usually attends Arctic explorations and reliefs, has been able to outstrip all competitors in the race for the North pole, is not due, probably, to any superior bravery on the part of Capt. Porter, but rather to fortunate circumstances, which made his unparalleled feat possible.

As the whales become scarcer, year by year, in the lower stretches of the Arctic ocean, the incentive to whaling captains to pursue them into their northern retreats is increased and it is possible that the discovery of the north pole will yet be a whaling captain in search of oil.

PELOTO SAVED.

Peloto is Persuaded to Discontinue His Gun and Will Give Peace Further Bombardment.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—President Peloto, of Brazil, has consented to discontinue the guns in Rio de Janeiro, and Admiral De Nello, commander of the insurgent fleet, has agreed not to fire on the city so long as the guns remain dismantled. This word was received from Commander Pickering, of the United States cruiser Charleston, now in the harbor at Rio de Janeiro.

This agreement, it is believed, was brought about through the efforts of the representatives of the foreign powers at Brazil. For the past week the foreign ministers have been trying to bring about an arrangement to save the Brazilian capital from destruction at the hands of the rebels, as agreed to by the foregoing official dispatch they have been successful for the present at least.

BURNING ATILES, Oct. 9.—It is reported here that the diplomatic corps at Rio de Janeiro has informed President Peloto that they will recognize the insurgents as belligerents, unless he withdraws his forces from the Brazilian capital by Sunday.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Senator Voorhees gave definite notice in the Senate Saturday morning that commencing on Monday he would recognize the senate to sit continuously until a vote had been reached on the pending measure, and that he would expect senators to maintain a quorum until the end of the present contest was reached.

"I might say more, but more is not necessary," he gave his notice, "and senators must govern themselves accordingly in performance of the duty they owe the public." Mr. Roach (dem.), of North Dakota, then addressed the senate in favor of repeal.

Senator's Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Frank Shay, the Southern Pacific Co.'s attorney and for many years Senator Stanford's private secretary, is considered to know better than anyone else the value of the great estate left by Stanford. He says fifty-five millions would be a conservative estimate of the property. The assessed value of the real estate owned by the late senator is $3,233,000, and the market value probably $12,000,000.

Capt. O'Brien Dangerous?

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Capt. O'Brien, the divorced husband of Mrs. Parnell, is dangerously ill.

PORTER'S TRIP.

How He Reached Within Six Degrees of the Pole.

In an Adventurous Search of Whale Oil the Captain Entered an Entirely Unknown Region—The Attitudes Reached by Modern Arctic Explorers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Great interest has been aroused in scientific circles and among people generally of the announcement that the steam whaler Newport, commanded by Capt. Porter, is returning from a cruise to the most northerly point ever reached by man, a point north of Prince Patrick islands, and within six degrees of the Pole. Details of Capt. Porter's enterprise are meager, owing to the fact that the Newport has not yet reached San Francisco, the first news of the adventure having come by the steamer Jeanie, which was recently out of Beirring sea, where she met the Newport.

Little is known of the Newport except that she is a stoutly-built whaling vessel, and especially adapted, as vessels of her class always are, for pushing through heavy ice. Capt. Porter is a thorough seaman, used to adventures in the northern seas in pursuit of whales, and it was owing to his determination to secure oil rather than to achieve an explorer's fame that he ventured through the open Polar sea north of the American continent to the unprecedented latitude of eighty-four degrees.

According to the reports of the Jeanie, Porter was finally stopped by ice, but he would probably have been able, if provided with dogs and sleds, to have crossed the 850 odd miles of ice which he reached in the North Pole. If indeed he did not strike land before traversing all of this intervening distance.

The arrival of Capt. Porter in San Francisco is eagerly awaited, in order that all the details of his remarkable journey through unknown seas may be ascertained.

The portions of the Arctic ocean through which Porter sailed have never been explored, like some other sections to the east and west. His route lay from Behring straits, up north of the American continent, and above the course which Columbus took on his remarkable voyage of exploration in 1492. It is seldom, indeed, that vessels are able to coast along the northern shore of America on account of the obstruction from ice, and the fact is that only two instances are on record where vessels have been able, by taking advantage of open water, to reach the mouth of the Mackenzie river. The feat of Capt. Porter, deserting the shore north of the continent and striking boldly out for the north, is therefore, the more remarkable.

It should be understood that the farthest point heretofore reached was that attained by Lockwood, of the Greely expedition, who reached an altitude of 83 degrees and 30 minutes. Nares, in 1870, following almost the same route which Greely subsequently took, achieved a record of 82 degrees. Kotzebue, in 1801, in his expedition north of Iceland, reached an altitude of 73 degrees, while Payer, in 1872, claimed a record of altitude short of that attained by Lockwood, of the Greely party.

The fact that a whale, unprepared for scientific exploration and equipped with a small fraction of the cost which usually attends Arctic explorations and reliefs, has been able to outstrip all competitors in the race for the North pole, is not due, probably, to any superior bravery on the part of Capt. Porter, but rather to fortunate circumstances, which made his unparalleled feat possible.

KENTUCKY STATE NEWS.

The Bank of Columbus closed the other morning. It is hoped that this is only a temporary suspension, but much uncertainty is felt by depositors.

At Louisville, Ex-Mayor P. Hooker Reed, whom Mayor Henry S. Tyler, the present incumbent and democratic nominee defeated four years ago, has been nominated as an independent candidate.

President Louis Straus, of the Lexington board of aldermen, sent in his resignation as president of the board a few nights ago. He is now serving his sixth term in the chair of that body, and gives as his reasons for desiring to be released that the present management of the city's affairs is not in accordance with his views.

A post office is to be established at Fulton, Grant county.

REPRESENTATIVE HENRY has introduced a bill in the house to pay the claims of certain citizens of Clark county for property destroyed by federal troops during the war.

The famous cases growing out of the French-Everett feud in Perry county have been filed away in the Clark circuit court, to which the cases were transferred by the legislature. The court docket is crowded and there is not much chance to secure convictions, and as the return of the cases to Perry county would mean another war, Judge Scott decided to file them away.

FOURTH-CLASS postmasters were appointed in Kentucky a few days ago as follows: John Flexner, Bethlehem, Henry county, vice Samuel Flexner, resigned; J. C. Starnes, Breck, Owen county, vice J. M. Smith, deceased; A. E. Moore, Garfield, Lewis county, vice S. B. Garrison, removed; W. P. Freeman, Goffrey, Allen county, vice Enoch Brooks, resigned; H. S. Baxter, Hestland, Monroe county, vice H. L. Bailey, resigned; Andrew Warren, Tamm, Pulaski county, vice Mathew Warren, resigned.

Two appointments in the internal revenue districts in Kentucky were made the other afternoon. William H. Howard, of Grant county, was appointed a storekeeper and gauger in the Owensboro district and J. M. Patterson received appointment in the Louisville district.

LOUISVILLE suffered a big surprise the other morning when it became known that the big wholesale whisky firm of Bartley, Johnson & Co. had suspended payment. The suspension is due directly to the recent money stringency. The firm has ample assets.

The post office department has directed the establishment of an office at Ft. Thomas. The office will be a branch of the Newport post office.

At Louisville, A. F. Laman, a baggage-master on the L. & N. R. R., was shot and seriously injured by his son, Given Laman, because he refused to give him money which he claimed to be a drug. The shooting occurred at Laman's home, at 16 West Madison street.

REPRESENTATIVE SILAS ADAMS the other day introduced a bill for the benefit of Theophilus T. Garrard and others, owners of the salt works on Goose creek, near Manchester. The bill states that on the 1st of October, 1892, under orders of Maj. Gen. Buell, the salt works above mentioned were destroyed, together with 20,000 bushels of manufactured salt then on hand. The war department investigated the matter and reported that the claimants were loyal citizens, and also appraised the value of the property destroyed. If the bill is favorably reported and passed the following sums will be paid the claimants: T. T. Garrard, $13,700.00; James W. Reid, $9,100; A. T. White and Michael Gibson, owners of the firm of White, Horton & Garrard, $10,000; Stephen Gibson and Alexander Chastain, $9,800; Dougherty White, survivor of the firm of J. & D. White, $57,000, and Dougherty White, survivor of the firm of J. & D. White, $50, in full payments to the claimants on account of the destruction of the salt works and property by the military forces of the United States.

The democrats of the senatorial district, composed of Madison, Estill and Powell counties, met at Irvine the other night and nominated Judge Jonathan D. White, of Madison county, for state senator. He defeated W. F. French and Hon. Darrett W. Fribble, both of Madison county.

"Chicago Day" at the World's Fair surpassed all expectations, the attendance being seven hundred and fifty-one thousand. This breaks the record of all previous expositions. The crush was so great that the turnstiles became inadequate, and Superintendent Tucker had to order all of the way on gates opened to admit the swarms of humanity.

Neither Chairman Wilson nor anybody else can stop the flood of outright lies that are sent out from Washington concerning the new tariff bill. Mr. Wilson says of the latest, charging that the Democrats on the Ways and Means committee were hesitating about making an attack on the McKinley tariff, and that the committee had agreed that the new tariff should not go into effect until January 1, 1895. "As to hesitation," the Democrats of the committee are now hard at work on the new bill, which we propose to report to the House as soon as we can get it ready. We appreciate the importance of our task, and the pledges which the Democratic party has made to the people, and there will be no shirking of duty or responsibility. Any suggestion to the contrary is unworthy of consideration. The date upon which the new tariff will go into effect has not been determined."

Republican Hard Times.

It is believed that the Democrats of Lawrence county are men of too much good sense to listen for a moment to the Republican "stop-thief" cry that the hard times from which this country is just recovering are due to the Democratic administration. Any man who thinks for himself knows that the Democratic administration is in no way responsible for the condition of affairs. Exactly the opposite is true, if either party is responsible.
All Republican laws are yet necessarily in force. The iniquitous Sherman law was promptly turned down by the Democratic House, and a vote on the repeal in the Senate has been and is being prevented by filibustering which is headed by Republicans. The statement that there is any lack of confidence in Grover Cleveland is preposterous—ridiculous.
Having been president for four years
the people knew what to expect of him;
and if we may count the size of his majority as meaning anything, it would seem that any "lack of confidence" which may have been lying around the country about that time was located in the vicinity of Benjamin Harrison—who,
by the way, had also been tried in the presidential capacity for four years.

The late depression was not only the result of Republicanism, but it had acquired a considerable momentum before the Democratic Executive was inaugurated. Is there any reason to believe that matters would have been better had the Republicans continued in office? There is no reason why it would not have been worse. One of the most absurd things going is that of charging the low price of wheat to the Democratic administration. The law of supply and demand is the only one which has anything to do with the price of wheat, as well as of most other things, and unless we pass laws compelling people to buy enough wheat to keep a strong demand for the product it is difficult to see what any party can do to help the price. If the act of inaugurating a Democratic President has put prices on farm products, then please give us credit for the high prices of potatoes, tobacco, and other items, and see if the account does not balance. If there is any one class of people who will be benefited above all others by Democratic laws, it certainly is the farmer. It is expected that the Republicans will attempt to shift the responsibility to the Democrats.

Is there a Democrat in Lawrence county who will allow the wool to be pulled over his eyes by such rot? We think not.

The World's Fair.

The rainy weather of October's first week decreased attendance at the fair in a great degree, though thousands were not kept away by the wet, but took advantage of lessened crowds to more fully examine the covered exhibits. Irish day was as any day well can be, but 105,000 people braved the storm and watched 2,000 of Erin's sons whom moisture and mud could not daunt march under the green flag. Sunday was pleasant and 47,000 people paid to see a half show. Monday the attendance dropped to 128,000, a figure which has not been reached before in some weeks.
Tuesday the admissions crawled up to 145,000, and Wednesday good weather brought out 175,000. Thursday bettered this and everything is booming again.

Five hundred boys and girls from Carlisle, Pa., Indian school have been visiting the fair during the past week. They have been seen in parades, heard in concerts and all have proved themselves as capable of "doing things" as the paleface.

A great many people still believe that the exposition will be open after the close of October. The fair will positively not exist, as a fair, after 12 o'clock, noon, Oct. 31. It may be, or it may not be, that for a short time after the formal closing a partial exhibit will be made, just as for a few weeks prior to the formal opening visitors were admitted to the grounds on payment of a fee, but, as prior to the formal opening, and, indeed, for some time after it, there was no full display, so neither will there be a full display after Oct. 31. The work of distribution of the exhibits will begin on the first day of November. After that there may be a magnificent display of relics, but the full display will be ended.

Children are now admitted to the fair for 10 cents each.

Mrs. Potter Palmer has been presented with a souvenir album, the gift of the queen of Siam. In addition to the recipient of the beautiful gift, Mrs.
Linchee Suriya, the lady commissioner from Siam, her husband, and Consul-General Smith, and almost all of the board of lady managers were present at the presentation. Mr. Suriya made the presentation address to Mrs. Potter Palmer. He referred to the women of his country and their equality with the men.
He concluded by praising the women of America and presenting the queen's gift, an album containing photographs of the royal family of Siam and the finest buildings in the kingdom. Mrs. Palmer replied in a happy manner, commending the exhibit of the Siamese women and thanking the queen for the honor done her.

The Midway has been flooded with counterfeit dollars, but the counterfeiters have been caught and are cooped up. There are still some counterfeits in the way of fake shows which would better be closed. Now that the end of the fair is in sight, the struggle for patronage is greater than ever. Cut prices prevail and it is likely the placards will be a mad scramble for dimes from now on, where formerly quarters and halves were the only coins looked up by show managers.

Here's what Walter Besant, the eminent writer, says of the exposition:
"Never before, in any age, in any country, has there been so wonderful an arrangement of lovely buildings at Chicago in the present year of grace! The hanging gardens of Babylon were fine. There were some fine things in Rome, especially when Nero was emperor and architect, but the common people saw little of his palace. There was rather a nice little show in London thirty years ago, and another not without its points in Philadelphia seventeen years ago. But nowhere, at any time, has there been presented to the world any group of buildings so entirely beautiful in themselves and in their arrangement as this group at Chicago they call the World's Fair."

People have been warned against carrying away samples of grain from the agricultural building. In every exhibit weeds in abundance have been found. This knocks out the removal of the grain exhibit to California's midwinter fair. People of the slope will not care to introduce such a grain pest as the weevil.

The department is inclined to turn the model battleship Illinois over to the city for the use of the naval reserve, and this action will probably be taken. The guns, furnishings, etc., loaned by the department as a part of the exhibit will be returned here, and the city will, of course, be expected to fit out the imitation cruiser as it now stands.

There is a case of queer tropical fruits in the Costa Rica building. To be sure, they are only wax imitations of the delicious things which are abundant in that little country where the soil is so fertile that it is cultivated from sea to mountain, and where sugarcane is grown as food for cattle.
Those who have never seen the original can form a very good idea of the appearance of southern fruits from this exhibit. There are fine sticks of sugarcane here; mangoes, the luscious, fibrous fruit so plentiful in the West Indies, and which some one has said ought to be eaten only in the bath, owing to the impossibility of separating the juicy meat from the stone, the pomegranate, the prettiest although not the nicest of all fruits, with its rich, red seeds, each wrapped in a thin tissue covering; the cherry-moya, with its numberless black seeds and creamy interior; the brown mammy apple, with its peculiar flavor, a fondness for which is soon acquired; the guava, from which the famous jelly is made, a rosy pink under the skin, and many others.

Directors are sanguine that the 20,000,000 mark will have been passed when the fair closes at noon of Oct. 31.

The Floyd County Teacher's Institute.

The Institute convened at Presburg, Kentucky, August 21st to 26th, 1893.
The following officers were elected: M. C. Spencer, President; Rev. I. F. J. McKinster, Chaplain;
W. W. Hopkins, Secretary. The Conductor, Professor Wm. Byington, delivered a very interesting address on "The Duty of the Teachers." The teachers all took a prominent part in the discussions.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

1. Resolved, That our Institute has been a success, and as many methods have been presented we feel that we more fully realize the methods which we can more successfully carry out in the schools of Floyd county.

2. That we tender our thanks to our County Superintendent, M. C. Spencer, the kind, gentle and successful manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of this Institute.

3. That we highly appreciate the efficient work done by our Conductor, Professor Wm. Byington, and that we regard his method of teaching as the more excellent way and that we endorse him as our Instructor for next year.

4. That we fully realize the good done by our Chaplain, Rev. I. F. J. McKinster, during this Institute, and we feel that we owe him a debt of gratitude.

5. That we feel grateful to our Secretary, W. W. Hopkins, for the able and accurate manner in which he has performed his duties.

6. That we sincerely thank the ladies for the vocal and instrumental music which they have given us, and for the pleasant and efficient manner in which they have set forth their methods of teaching.

7. Whereas, The cold hand of death has taken from our brother er teacher, Sol. Hays. Therefore, he resolved that in his death we feel that we have lost one of our best friends and co-workers in the cause of education, and hope that our loss is his gain.

Also, since our last Institute Mr. R. C. C. Johnson has died. Therefore, he resolved that in his death we feel that we have lost one of our most useful and respected teachers, and we hope that his soul is now with the God who gave it.

9. That we again offer our hearty co-operation with Senator A. H. Stewart in procuring school legislation, and that we heartily represent such legislation, as will procure a broad education in each county as was provided in the original Stewart school bill, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Mountain Monitor, Kentucky Democrat, Paintsville Courier and Big Sandy

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other.
We will tell you. When this Remedy is taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly. For sale by Monthly Crop Report.

The rain which commenced on the last day of September has been general all over the State there has not been rain to do any good since the last week in June. All kinds of grass was completely burned up, and stock water getting very scarce. The farmers had begun to feed their stock on fodder and hay. In some localities they had rain on September 9th, which will make a great change in late tobacco and late corn, and unless we have an early frost the condition of the crop will be materially changed. I have no report from any of my correspondents of damage done to the frost of September 17th.

The larger part of the tobacco crop is housed. The rains in the last few days caught a great deal of green tobacco has been cut. A marked improvement in condition this month over last, but the crop is reported as being prematurely ripened and of an inferior quality. Per cent. 73.

The corn crop has made a change of eight or ten points since last month. The general opinion has been that there would be about two-thirds of a crop. It remains to be seen whether or not too much improvement is based on the late rains. Much depends on the outcome of the late frost. The early corn has mostly been cut, and much of it has cured up light and chaffy. Per cent. 67.

Wheat sowing will advance more rapidly since the rain. The farmers are very backward with this crop, and the indications are that the acreage will not be so large. Should the weather continue favorable, fall grasses will be all that could be desired. In many places where there was rain in September the grass is now very fine.

The condition of stock—horses, mules, cattle and hogs—is reported good everywhere. No complaint of any kind except hog cholera. In one of my reports last fall, I said to the farmers that there was a very great shortage in the hog crop, and from all the information I can get the supply will be fully as short this fall. If these statements prove to be correct, it means high prices for hogs this fall and winter.

The report that there is a general law for the state prohibiting stock from running at large seems to be untrue. The law allows the subject to be voted on in each county.

D. C. Spencer went to the Fair last week and brought home a miniature Ferris wheel, which he keeps running in his store. He also brought a fine assortment of fruits.

Mrs. L. T. McClure's brother, John Cummings, who was thought to have been fatally injured in Ironton recently, is rapidly recovering. He lost the thumb and three fingers of his left hand.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

Mr. Wm. Franklin and wife arrived here Tuesday from P. Pleasant, W. Va., having come the entire distance on bicycles. They came from Ashland to this place in six hours, the distance being 30 miles. They are guests of G. R. B. Chapman.

C. B. Stuart received a general average of 98 per cent. upon examination, which is a remarkable grade. He is also extensively experienced as examiner and teacher, and will come into the office of Superintendent ripe for the best of service. He has obtained his education without aid, and is entirely self-made.

Charley Williams is one of the nicest men you ever knew. He is a plain, frank and honest citizen with plenty of "get-up-and-get" about him. His habits are strictly temperate and he is very industrious, and will look after the interests of our district in a faithful manner. Democrats, come out, every one of you, and vote for him.

If Bud Roe and Charley Williams could meet all the voters in the district there is no telling how big their majorities would be. But there is not time for that, and the emoluments of the office are insufficient to justify such an undertaking. So please take the words of endorsement which come from all those who know them, and remember to vote for Roe and Williams.

Judge J. W. Rice has again been made the Democratic nominee for Police Judge of Louisa. His administration has been characterized by a just and impartial discharge of his duties, and the confidence of the people in him is best shown by the large docket on hands every month. He attends closely to business and disposes of everything promptly. The party did the right thing when it renominated him.

In order that my position may not be misunderstood as regards the recent controversy in which the name of L. K. Vinson was involved I will state I knew absolutely nothing about it and had no connection whatever with it. The whole thing occurred during my absence of ten days, and was without my knowledge or consent. I have never even seen the article which prompted the communication published in the News. I am not in any way responsible for the article or for its publication.

M. F. CONLEY.

To Be Married.
On next Wednesday at noon Mr. John Crutcher, of this place, will be married to Miss Rose Castle, a handsome young lady from the upper part of this county. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents (Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Castle), which is the George Burgess place. They will come to Louisa at once and go to house keeping. Mr. Crutcher has a house already furnished on the east side of Water street, below Perry.

Well! Well!!!
Mr. George Reeder's many friends have been greeting him with broad smiles for the past two days, and each and every one in return. In fact, nothing but a genuine, wholesome smile has found a place on his countenance since Wednesday morning, when the news came that a daughter was born to Mrs. Reeder on the 7th at Mendon, Ohio, where she has been visiting her parents for several weeks. Mr. Reeder will hasten to that place as soon as possible, which will probably be a week or two.

This is their first-born. The pleasant intelligence came in the nature of a surprise to their many friends in Louisa. The News extends greeting to the fair stranger, with the hope that she may inherit the graces of body and mind which distinguish her parents, and that she may live long and prosper.

Sullivan-Borders.
The wedding of Miss Nora K. Borders and Mr. Henry C. Sullivan was an elegant affair. It occurred at the South Methodist Church in Louisa last Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock. This hour was selected in order that they might take the train passing a few minutes later.

Notwithstanding the early hour, the guests began to arrive half an hour before the appointed time, and when the wedding party arrived it found the house well filled.

The couple entered the church from the left vestibule, preceded by two ushers and followed by two. To the time of Mendlesohn's wedding march the party slowly marched up the aisle, and the bridal couple halted under the curtained arch, which supported a wedding bell and two hearts skillfully wrought of flowers. They stood facing the congregation while Rev. J. T. French very impressively delivered a beautiful ceremony, consisting first of a few appropriate words addressed to the audience, next a brief prayer with the party kneeling, then the enunciation which made the couple husband and wife. Without waiting for congratulations the march was resumed and the party passed down the right aisle.

"Call Me Thine Own" was sweetly rendered on the organ in soft tones throughout the ceremony. Each of the ushers carried a small silver bell—"wedding bells"—and at the conclusion of the ceremony, and during the march out of the church, these were lightly jingled.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan were driven to the depot and boarded the train a few minutes afterward. Most of the guests went to the train to see them off and wish them the joys of life. They have gone to Chicago and will remain there until the last of next week, when they will return and take up their abode at the Sullivan place.

The bride was married in a rich travelling costume of blue hosiery, trimmed in brown velvet and beaver.

The organist was Miss Fannie Freese and the ushers were John M. Rice, Jr., Dr. J. F. Reynolds, Frank Hammond and M. F. Conley. The decorations of the church were as tasteful as could well be imagined. They were in white, enlivened with flowers and evergreens.

The bride is truly a worthy and admirable young lady, daughter of Mr. A. P. Borders, one of our best citizens. She was endowed by nature with an enviable share of the graces, and these have been so developed and finished by education and culture that she has grown into a charming womanhood. The man she has chosen for her husband comes from one of the oldest and most prominent families of north-eastern Kentucky. He is a young lawyer of acknowledged ability with bright prospects for the future. The News offers congratulations.

Deaths.
A two-year-old daughter of George Castle died Wednesday at Gallup.

John F. Maynard, aged 50 years, died at Richardson on the 9th leaving a family. He died of dropsy.

Died, last Saturday morning, Miss Mary J. Baker daughter of Samuel Baker, of this place. Remittent fever caused her death. The burial took place Sunday afternoon near Fort Gay, the former home of the family. Rev. Cox conducted the ceremonies. The deceased was twenty-one years old, a good Christian young lady, member of the Baptist church. The family have much sympathy in their bereavement.

Scarlet Fever.
It was reported for several days that Wm. Remmele's youngest child had scarlet fever, but the truth of the report was denied yesterday, the claim being made that it was only a case of "hives."

LATER.—The health officer pronounces the case scarlet fever, beyond doubt. Every effort should be used to prevent an epidemic.

An Ancient Document.
Jack Whitt has a very old manuscript which has been handed down from his ancestry. He has it framed and prizes it highly. It is well preserved and very legible, notwithstanding that it was penned while this country was still a part of King George's territory. When we remember that it is older than the Declaration of Independence, it seems indeed ancient. Following is the way it reads:
"Pursuant to an order of the North Carolina Association we met at the Church of Christ on Meadow Creek in Tricastle county & after hearing the teachings and call of the church & after examining into the call and qualifications of Bro. Richard Whitt & believing it to be the mind and will of God we have by fasting prayer and laying on of hands ordained our Beloved Bro. Whitt their pastor & he is hereby authorized to administer in all the various parts of his function. Given under our hands this 26th day of November, 1775.
SAM. HARRIS DUTTON LAINE ELMATHAN DAVIS."

The United States Senate is now in continuous session and the last report up to the time of going to press stated that Senator Allen had "spoken" over ten hours and was not yet through killing time. It's a pretty pass when a majority can't number. The Senate is a back number.

Notice to Tax Payers of Lawrence County.
I will proceed to collect the tax for 1893 by posting notices of the days and places my deputies will be in each district to receive the tax of the several districts in this county. This notice is all the demand the law imposes on me to make. I am sorry to have to push the matter so rapidly, but under the heavy penalties of the law I will, after notice given, proceed to levy and sell. My friends, you should not blame me as I did not impose these taxes on you, and I am compelled to do this to save myself and friends.

Yours Respectfully,
A. J. WILSON.

The Time to Visit The World's Fair.

Those who live in Chicago claim that October is the most delightful month of the year, and it is thought that it will be the big month of the World's Fair. There will be at least one more good chance for visiting the Fair, as the C. & O. has announced that a special train will start from Romeoville, W. Va., at 8 A. M. October 2nd, and run through to Chicago. It will be composed of elegant vestibuled coaches and sleepers and will be personally conducted, which is a big card in itself, but the rates will be the Banner one of the World's Fair.

The C. & O. Ticket Agent will give full information regarding rates and train accommodations. He will also secure board in Chicago at from 50 cents, up on the European plan in perfectly reliable quarters conveniently located.
